Rewrite each sentence, without changing meaning, beginning as shown.

1 Anne read the book then she went to see the film.
   After reading/she had read the book, Anne went to see the film. ........................................

2 Mike moved to Australia six months ago.
   Mike has been (living) in Australia for six months. .................................................................

3 ‘You must park here’, the police officer said to Agnes.
   The police officer told Agnes she had to park there. .................................................................

4 ‘I promise I will call tomorrow ’
   He promised to call the next/following day. ..............................................................................

5 If I am paid all the money I am owed, I will change my car.
   Should I be paid all the money I am owed, I will change my car. ............................................

6 I wouldn’t buy a new house, even if I won the lottery.
   Even if I were to win the lottery, I wouldn’t buy a new house. ....................................................

7 They are going to build a new cinema on the site of the old library.
   A new cinema will be built on the site of the old library. ............................................................

8 There isn’t enough money to pay the bill.
   There is too little money to pay the bill. ......................................................................................

9 The book was very expensive, so I decided not to buy it.
   The book was so expensive (that) I decided not to buy it. ............................................................

10 It cannot be true that Peter is getting married.
   Peter can’t be getting married. ..................................................................................................

11 They possibly haven’t received the message yet.
   They may/might not have received the message yet. ..................................................................

12 What does the doctor recommend?
   What does the doctor think you should/ought to do? .................................................................
13 Shall we invite Francis and Bob over for dinner this evening?

Why _don’t we invite Francis and Bob over for dinner this evening?_ ……………………………

14 We all need to let our families know we are safe.

Each (one) of us _needs to let our family know we are safe._ ………………………………………

15 If you walk faster, you will get there sooner.

The _faster you walk, the sooner you get there._ ……………………………………………………………

16 That’s the stupidest thing I’ve ever heard.

I’ve _never heard anything so stupid._ ………………………………………………………………………

17 The thief said he did not shoot the guard dog.

The thief _denied shooting/having shot the guard dog._ ………………………………………………………

18 I have never heard such a ridiculous proposal.

Never _have I heard such a ridiculous proposal._ ……………………………………………………………

19 Neither Albania nor Turkey is part of the European Union.

Albania is not part of the European Union, nor _is Turkey._ …………………………………………………

20 I really need to do more exercise.

What _I really need to do is more exercise._ ………………………………………………………………………