New to SAGE Business Cases!

Our Cases 2020 collection features two new case types, Express and Enhanced. Express Cases are published quarterly over the course of the year. These short, news-driven cases connect theory to current affairs in business. Express Cases are ready to implement—no preparation work is needed from students, making it easy for instructors to bring into classroom discussions.

Meeting known demand from faculty, our new Enhanced Cases put an emphasis on increased student engagement. Cases feature video, animation and/or interactive data embeds from Data Planet.

"SAGE is committed to developing cases around emerging and underserved topics that accurately reflect the diversity and shifting priorities of the global business landscape."

Within SAGE Originals we are also partnering with leading academics to create curated series on key topics in business education. Submissions to these series are vetted by an academic series editor in addition to a peer reviewer and SAGE developmental editor.

Sample cases:

Nisolo: The Tension between Business Performance and Social Impact (SAGE Originals)
This case looks into the social enterprise Nisolo, a Nashville-based online shoe and jewelry retailer. With a focus on reducing waste and establishing an ethical supply chain that provides economic empowerment for its workforce in Peru, Nisolo now faces the challenge of meeting the financial expectations of its investors while achieving its criteria for social and environmental impact.

Google LLC: Battling Gender Discrimination Allegations (SAGE Originals)
In 2017, three female former Google employees filed a class-action suit accusing the company of gender discrimination, stating that Google pays women less than men for comparable work and denies them equal opportunities. Google denied the accusations, however, it faced intense scrutiny after multiple gender-related issues cropped up in quick succession.

Event Management: Using a Servant Leadership Model (International CHRIE)
Leadership is an elusive term in business. Many companies claim they are leaders in their industries or boast about training their employees to be the best leaders. This case study suggests that Servant Leadership is different from other types because it focuses on leading by example and putting the needs of employees and organizations above the needs of an individual leader.
