UNIVERSITA' DEGLI STUDI ALDO MORO

At present, in Italy the University Sector is made up of 89 University Institutions which are classified in:

- 58 State universities
- 17 non-State universities (legally recognized by the State)
- 2 universities for foreigners
- 6 higher schools specialized in postgraduate university studies
- 6 telematic universities

According to the Ministerial Decree 270/2004, which rules the latest reform of the University system, State Universities issue, at the end of each relevant study course, the following titles:

- Laurea (L) [1st cycle degree]; 3 years; 180 credits
- Laurea Magistrale (LM) [2nd cycle degree]; 2 years; 120 credits
- Diploma di Specializzazione (DS, Specialization Degree)
- Dottorato di Ricerca (DR, Research Doctorate); minimum 3 years
- Master di primo e secondo livello (1st and 2nd level University Masters)

Credits (one credit is usually the equivalent of 25 hours of study) indicate the workload required for a student with adequate initial preparation to acquire the knowledge and skills envisaged by the course syllabus. These hours include both classroom activities (lectures, practice, seminars), individual study and other training activities like internships etc. The average yearly workload required for a full-time student has been set to 60 credits. Credits are earned by passing the final examination or by successfully completing other forms of assessment. They do not replace grades. The maximum final university degree grade is 110/110. Exceptional students may be awarded a degree grade of 110/110 cum laude. Classes may be held in semesters or annually, depending on the Faculties: 1st semester from mid/last week of September to the end of February; 2nd semester from mid/last week of February to the end of July. Lectures usually finish before the end of the term to provide students with time for the exam period. Exams are held on different dates during the academic year. All lectures and exams are held in Italian.

The University of Bari, one the 58 State universities, was founded in 1925 and is attended today by about 60.000 students, has 15 faculties across the Bari, Brindisi, and Taranto campuses and offers 125 degree programs (Bachelor's and Doctoral degrees).

The University of Bari has many complexes, the main are the following:

- Palazzo Ateneo, in the city centre, where all the administrative offices, the rector's office and the faculties of Letters and Education are based

- the University Campus, more peripheral, where all the scientific faculties are based
- Policlinico, where the faculty of Medicine and Surgery is based

Students can consult the appendix in order to see where the other university complexes are located.

In this guide the foreign reader will be able to have a general overlook of all the centres and services the University of Bari offers his students, the bachelor's degrees and the professional opportunities offered by the faculties, the intense international exchange activity regarding students and teachers and much more which can be found on the website uniba.it.

The background of the page features a large, faint, circular seal of the University of Gävle. The seal contains a central shield with vertical stripes, a crown above it, and a figure holding a staff. Below the shield is a landscape with a lighthouse on a rocky island, mountains, and a body of water. # Foreign students

Community and non-community foreign students, with a regular residence permit are admitted to this University under the same guidelines used for Italian students. For students with dual nationality one of which is Italian, the Italian nationality is valid. Students can only apply to University if they have valid secondary school qualifications.

Non-community students, without a residence permit, can be admitted within the limits of available positions, upon successfully passing the Italian language test. They must bring a pre-enrollment form (Modello A) to the Italian consular post in their country of origin, in which the specific Bachelor's Degree Course and the chosen University are indicated. The following documents must be included with the application form:

- a) original copy of secondary school qualifications of at least 12 years of education, or a legally validated substitute certificate;
- b) document which certifies the passing of an academic competence test to access higher education in their home universities;
- c) document which certifies partial or completed academic course of study, in cases where the number of secondary school years is less than 12;
- d) two passport photos (one authenticated by the Italian consular post of the country of origin).

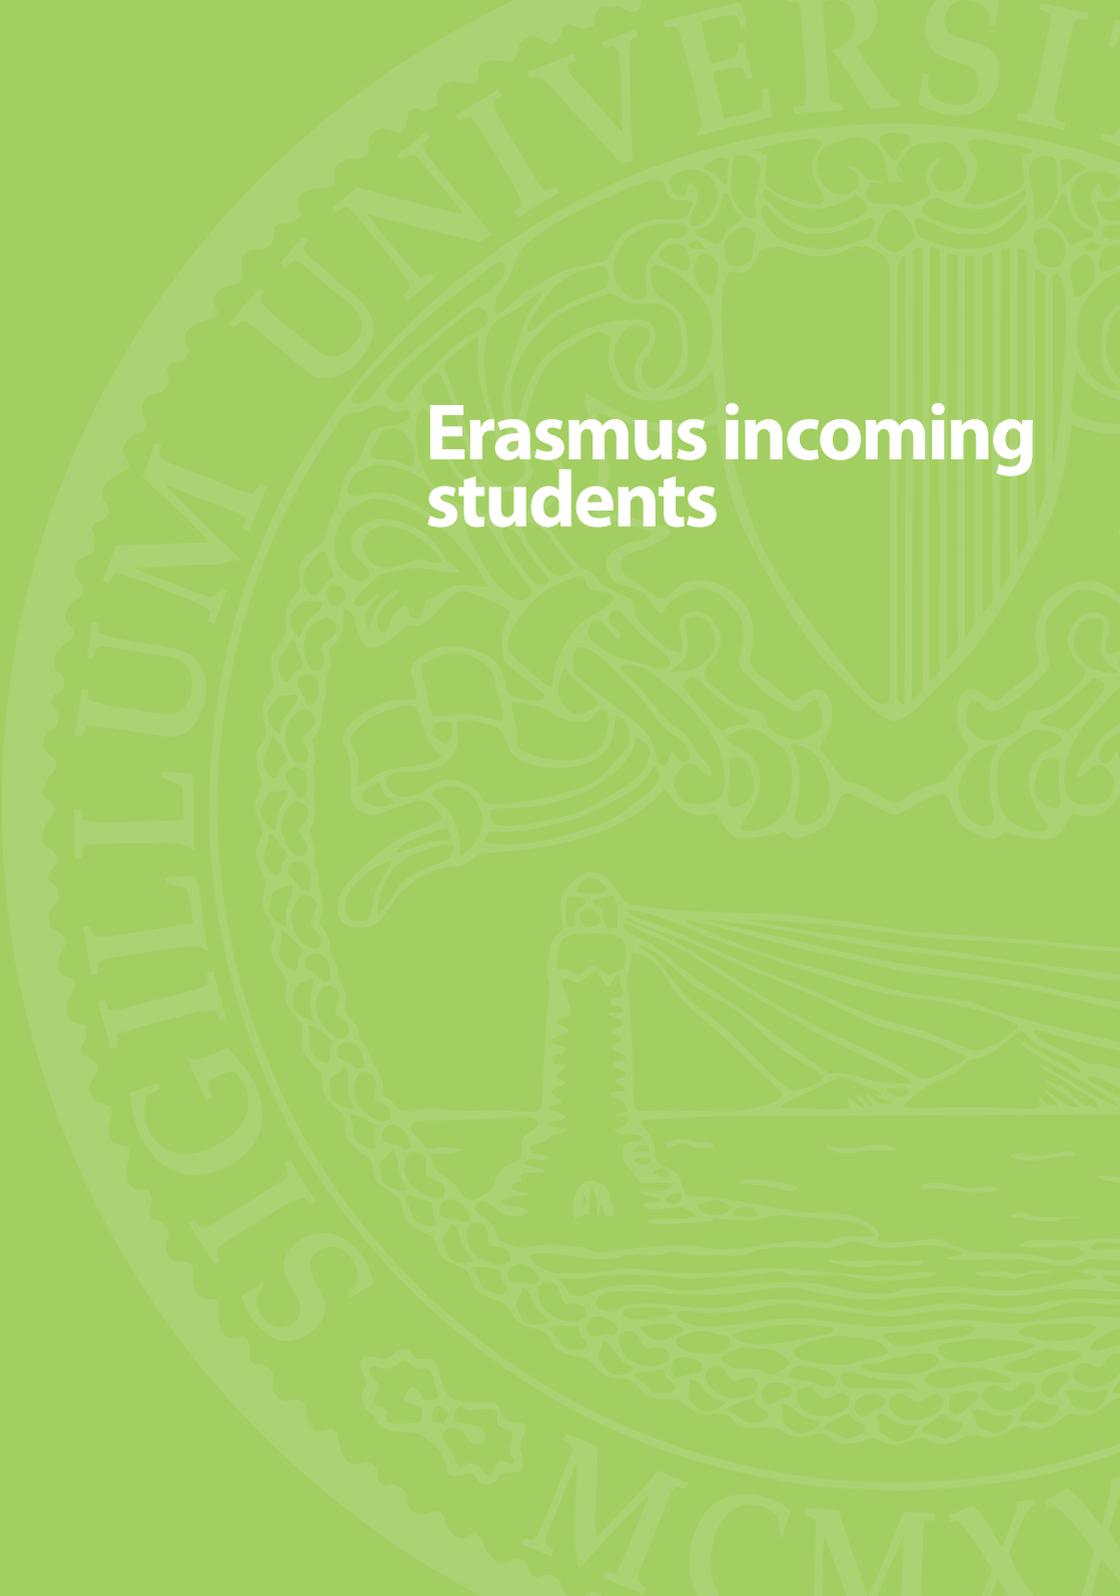

If foreign students already have a University Degree or have passed a certain number of exams in their country and want to validate them, a detailed description of the mentioned exams must be included in the application form. For students from countries which have subscribed to the Aja Convention of October 5 1961, the documents must have the "Apostille" stamp, postmarked by the authorized local authorities. All documents written in foreign languages must have a legally validated translation into Italian, marked by the Italian consular post.

Foreign students needing to take the Italian language examination (usually on early September) must bring their passport and student Visa, together with their residence permit or a proof of application for residency.

Students who do not pass the Italian language examination cannot take other aptitude or competitive examinations.
