Assessment
Assessment methods	A brief interview on the program carried out at the conclusion of the laboratory activity.
Assessment criteria	 Knowledge and understanding skills: Knowledge and understanding of the course content, methods of investigation, and archaeological contexts of origin of materials Applied knowledge and understanding skills: Ability to recognize, describe, comment on and contextualize the archaeological materials examined Autonomy of judgment:

DIPARTIMENTO DI RICERCA E INNOVAZIONE UMANISTICA

	Ability to analyze critically the terracottas, formulate independently the problems posed by the study of materials, and apply the correct methods of investigation • Communication skills: Mastery of disciplinary language and ability to appropriately describe problems and contexts • Learning skills: Ability to use the essential tools of research and study Ability to set historical archaeological problems related to the study of the materials analyzed
Final exam and grading criteria	The following criteria will be taken into account for final exam: commitment to attendance responsible and informed participation learning and understanding of content possession of disciplinary language ability to critically analyze and apply methods of inquiry
