

General information
Academic subject	International law
Degree course	Political Science L 36
Academic Year	2022-2023
European Credit Transfer and Accumulation System (ECTS)	8
Language	Italian
Academic calendar (starting and ending date)	September 2022- December 2022
Attendance	Not compulsory

Professor/ Lecturer
Name and Surname	Giovanni Cellamare
E-mail	giovanni.cellamare1@uniba.it
Telephone	080/5717764
Department and address	Department of Political Science Room 1 Floor III Corso Italia no 25
Virtual headquarters
Tutoring (time and day)	Tuesday, 9.30-12.30 from January to August

Syllabus
Learning Objectives	Mastery of the subject, the ability to independently research regulatory and jurisprudential sources and to interpret them systematically. The student will have the ability to identify mutual links between the issues in international law, as well as between these issues and the specific cases in which they may play a role, especially from the point of view of the internal legal operator. The student will have to acquire the ability to analyze concrete cases during the lessons or by means of individual or group reports. Technical clarity in presenting. The student must show an adequate level of methodological skills
Course prerequisites	Passing the IUS/09 exam of public law institutions is the necessary condition that must be met in order to take
Contents	Course program The international legal system and its fundamental characteristics. The international subjects, the sources of international law, as well as the relations between these sources and the domestic law. The territorial sovereignty and its limits. The protection of human rights and the treatment of foreign citizens, migrants, in particular. The punishment of international crimes. The treatment of foreign states and their bodies. The treatment of international organizations and their officials. The international law of the sea. What an international wrongful act amounts to. The rules concerning the use of force in contemporary international law. Self-defense in international law. The collective security system of the United Nations. International disputes, the means aimed at settling or at facilitating the solution of international disputes. -

Books and bibliography	A. CASSESE, Diritto internazionale (a cura di Micaela Frulli), Il Mulino, Bologna, IV ed., 2021; or B. CONFORTI M. IOVANE, Diritto internazionale, Editoriale Scientifica, Napoli, XII ed., 2021 (the parts that are written in lowercase letters must be read in order to understand those that are written in uppercase letters); or U. Villani, Lezioni di diritto internazionale, Cacucci, Bari, 2021. As well as, G. CELLAMARE, La disciplina dell'immigrazione irregolare nell'Unione europea, Giappichelli, Torino, II ed., 2021: Chapter III
Additional materials

Work schedule
Total	Lectures	Hands on (Laboratory, working groups, seminars, field trips)	Out-of-class study hours/ Self-study hours
Hours
200	64		136
ECTS
8
Teaching strategy	Lectures, seminars, mainly interdisciplinary exercises in English and / or French. Projections referring to topical cases that shed light on the relevant practice. The active participation of students is required, which may include the presentation of individual and/or group works aimed at directing students towards the acquisition of methodologies and the capacity for autonomy and analysis
Expected learning outcomes
Knowledge and understanding on:	Knowledge and understanding of the structure and features of the international community and its organization
Applying knowledge and understanding on:	Knowledge and ability to use the relevant legal categories in the analysis of the practice of the international community
Soft skills	Ability to acquire the skills and the methodological knowledge that are instrumental both in subsequent future theoretical learning and in the application of the acquired knowledge

Assessment and feedback
Methods of assessment	Oral Interview
Evaluation criteria

UNIVERSITÀ
DEGLI STUDI DI BARI
ALDO MORO

DIPARTIMENTO
DI SCIENZE POLITICHE

Criteria for assessment and attribution of the final mark	Knowledge and critical understanding of the subject issues, methodological skills, accurate and technical language
Additional information	