| Syllabus | |
| Prerequisites/-requirements | Linguistic and literary skills that allow the student to recognize the literary specificity of a text and allow her/him to easily follow a course in French. |
| Expected learning outcomes | Knowledge and understanding of some classics of French literature from the seventeenth to the twenty-first century. Acquisition of the elements for the recognition of a literary canon. Autonomy of judgment with respect to the most obvious indications of the mass media. Mastery of communication skills in the presentation of literary texts. |

|---------------------|--|
| Contents | Recognize the theme of the course within the texts in the program to understand the importance of these phenomena. |
| Course program | 1.Literature, style and literariness The term "literature" now covers a multitude of meanings, so much so that critics have found it essential to have subsequent categorisations. What notions do the three words cover? 2. Space-time in literature: how are these notions, now irreducibly associated in the world of hard sciences, exploited in literature? According to the genres, by the author and the genesis of the work, by the reader and his traveling immobility, by the characters freed from all constraints? |
| Bibliography | Racine, Phèdre Montesquieu, Les Lettres persanes Flaubert, L'éducation sentimentale Alain-Fournier, Le Grand Meaulnes Mauvignier, Des hommes *Bescherelle, Chronologie de la littérature française, Paris, Hatier, 2014. |
| Notes | The texts are classic and are easily available, even in digital edition. The additional materials concerning the texts in the program and literary genres other than the novel will be provided on the e-learning platform and studied during the course. |
| Teaching methods | Lectures, laboratory teaching, seminars with external experts, exercises, support for e-learning platform, with use of multimedia supports. |
| Assessment methods | The final exam is oral and in the French language. There is no opportunity for partial exams. |
| Evaluation criteria | Knowing how to present a text, translate it appropriately, evoke elements of criticism of the works in the program. Making critical connections between works of different centuries. |
