Teaching strategy	French language workshops are divided into four levels (introductif, intermédiaire, seuil, avancé). The courses consist of activities designed to improve the student's reading, writing, listening and speaking skills through the study of grammar, vocabulary and phonology, analysis of spoken and written discourse like dialogues, films, television programmes, press and literary texts, the production of written and oral communications of various types.
Expected learning outcomes	Niveau introductif: the student will learn the basis of vocabulary, phonology, grammar structure through listening and reading of dialogues, oral communication and grammar and phonological exercises. Correspondence between spelling and pronunciation will be taught through progressive methods. Morpho-syntactic skills learned will include present and imperative, negation, pronouns forms, definite and indefinite articles, feminine and masculine nouns and adjectives. Vocabulary will be relevant to basic situations of everyday life. Students will be helped to develop self-study skills to find French resources on the Web. Niveau intermédiaire: the student will acquire and consolidate phonological, morpho-syntactic and lexical basis structures through listening and reading of dialogues, oral communication and grammar and phonological exercises. Reading aloud. Consolidation of the introductory skills. The student will be able to conjugate passé composé verbs, to use demonstrative and possessive adjectives, prepositions and adverbs of place. Everyday vocabulary will be enriched. Students will be guided to explore French resources on the web and to develop self-study skills. Niveau seuil: acquisition and consolidation of phonological, morpho-syntactic and lexical structures through listening and reading, oral communication and oral and writing exercises. Expressive reading aloud. Morpho-syntactic skills will be developed: imperfect and future tenses will be studied, time words and pronouns. Students will be able to tell a past story and imagine future actions and plans. Web videos and texts will be used for exercises. Niveau avancé: phonological, morpho-syntactic and lexical structures will be developed and consolidated through translation of phrases or short texts from Italian to French. Speaking comprehension will be developed through transcription of audio or video. Oral communication will be stimulated through commenting or debating with the teacher or with the other students.
