| | make a common platform on which to develop projects, study cases at regional level, Italian and foreign through a method of application with respect to what is studied at a theoretical level. This is fully among the objectives that the geographic disciplines and in this case the Geography of tourism are set to develop individual and group processing skills. Making informed judgements and choices The objective is to provide the student within the Degree Course with the conceptual, methodological and applied tools to be able to recognize, interpret and represent the tourist and relationship space in a critical key. Communicating knowledge and understanding The analysis and application of some specific aspects of the discipline come into the Delphi Technique as a method of brain storming and communication to allow for integration into a diverse workplace. Capacities to continue learning Training in the specific discipline helps to make people understand that tourism is an expression and a measure of men's ability to organize space to enhance it, respecting nature and its essential elements. Therefore tourism in the discipline is evaluated as a factor of development to measure the degree of maturity of the tourist regions. In this sense, intermediate exercises are foreseen that allow to evaluate the different levels of learning. |
| Contents | The objectives of the Geography of Tourism course are aimed at building systematic knowledge of the discipline by presenting a review of themes and the literature that dealt with it. The approaches followed are different and each has suggested themes and tools: from economic to political, from human to environmental and perceptual. |
