Compulsory attendance	See Regolamento Didattico, art. 7.
Learning Objectives
Prerequisites	An appropriate knowledge of the key concepts of contemporary art history and of the historical contexts where the various artistic movements have developed is required.
Expected learning outcomes	The goal of the course is to provide the students with a set of knowledge and critical and methodological tools instrumental to the understanding of contemporary artistic practices, as they are confronted with a dramatic increase in the languages of art and art production techniques. More specifically, students will be provided with the necessary theoretical tools to understand the multifaceted and heteronymous nature of contemporary artwork. The goal of the course is to provide the students with a set of analytical tools instrumental to the development of the skills necessary to interpret contemporary artistic practices in their interrelation with other cultural productions and within a global museum and exhibition system. The students will hopefully make good use of the methodology studied in the course in order to develop interest in critical writing and curatorial practice. The course will provide the necessary tools for students to orient themselves independently in the vast artistic production of the XX century and the first decade of the XXI century. The students will have to develop adequate critical thinking skills and acquire an appropriate vocabulary in order to be able to navigate through the various artistic practices and historical-critical perspectives on a global scale.

Evaluation criteria	Students are expected to give proof of knowledge of the topics covered in the course syllabus and to be able to contextualize historically and critically the artistic movements studied and their main exponents. They should also be able to analyze the works of art, identifying their formal, stylistic technical and material features. The ability to discuss the syllabus content not in a mnemonic way, but by pointing out transversal links between different works and artists will be assessed. In this regard, students are expected to further their knowledge by consulting the works of secondary literature discussed during the course.

Course contents	Faraway, So Close! From the mondialization to the globalization of contemporary art Over the last few decades, the emergence of the need to rethink the Humanities in the light of post-colonial theories and of an overall paradigm shift — indicated with the vague and problematic phrase “Global Turn” — has brought about a radical transformation in the narratives of contemporary art history. This discipline has been progressively addressing the discourse of cultural Otherness, displacing the traditional Western centrality in the debate on art. By means of disciplinary tools grounded on a broader reflection on cultural history, art history has progressively challenged the traditional canon and deconstructed some of the pillars of the to Western patriarchal hegemonic establishment. Artists, for their part, have always turned towards other cultures and marginalized cultural phenomena, often interpreting political demands as a source of formal innovation and poetic renewal. The course aims to offer the methodological tools, the key historical-critical references, and an updated overview of contemporary art history in the light of Global Studies.
