

| General information | |
|---|--|
| Academic subject | ECONOMY AND TECHNIQUE OF THE SECURITIES MARKET |
| Degree course | BUSINEES STRATEGY AND MANAGEMENT |
| Academic Year | 2022/2023 |
| European Credit Transfer and Accumulation System (ECTS) | 8 |
| Language | Italian |
| Academic calendar (starting and ending date) | II semester |
| Attendance | No |

| Professor/ Lecturer | |
|-------------------------|--|
| Name and Surname | Nicola Bruni |
| E-mail | Nicola.bruni@uniba.it |
| Telephone | 335 8199980 |
| Department and address | Taranto |
| Virtual headquarters | Microsoft Teams |
| Tutoring (time and day) | Monday 2.00 pm / 3.00 pm of every week in presence starting from the second semester |

| Syllabus | |
|-------------------------------|---|
| Learning Objectives | The course aims to present the technical characteristics and the economic and management profiles of the securities instruments, and to provide a picture of the equity, bond and derivatives markets, with regard to the structure of supply and demand, regulation, institutional and organizational profiles, to the main types of securities. The type of professional figures that one wants to train for the Master's Degree in Business and Management Strategies is that of "Specialists in relations with the market". |
| Course prerequisites | // |
| Contents | In detail, the Course program is structured as follows: Part I – introductory part 1. The organization of the financial markets 2. The Italian discipline of financial intermediation and markets Parte II – substantial part 3. Debt instruments 4. The equity instruments: the shares and the offers of share 5. Derivative instruments 6. Services to issuers 7. The units of collective investment schemes 8. The structure and organization of market institutions 9. Intermediaries in financial instruments 10. The evaluation of financial instruments Parte III – special part 11. Supervision of intermediaries and markets 12. The managed saving industry |
| Books and bibliography | Banfi A., Markets and financial instruments, ISEDI, Turin. |
| Additional materials | Consolidated Law on Finance Legislative Decree 24 February 1998, n. 58 in the updated version also available on the website www.consob.it and Consob / Bank |

| | |
|--|--|
| | of Italy Regulations ONLY FOR THE ATTENDED: Other teaching material that will be delivered during the lessons |
|--|--|

| Work schedule | | | |
|--|----------|--|---|
| Total | Lectures | Hands on (Laboratory, working groups, seminars, field trips) | Out-of-class study hours/ Self-study hours |
| Hours | | | |
| 64 | // | // | // |
| ECTS | | | |
| 8 | | | |
| Teaching strategy | | Lectures and guided tours at the bodies where the securities market operations are carried out | |
| Expected learning outcomes | | | |
| Knowledge and understanding on: | | At the end of the course, students must know and have the ability to understand the main dynamics of the functioning of the stock exchanges and the processes of quotations on the stock exchange. | |
| Applying knowledge and understanding on: | | At the end of the course, students must be able to know and have the ability to understand the application of the basics, learning a correct method of assessing the return profile and risk of the financial instruments studied (stocks, bonds and derivatives). | |
| Soft skills | | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Making informed judgments and choices At the end of the course, students must be able to understand the techniques for making the best investment choices by identifying possible risk areas as market conditions change. • Communicating knowledge and understanding At the end of the course, students must have acquired the ability to present the various investment opportunities in public, as well as provide advice on issues related to investment choices. • Capacities to continue learning At the end of the course, students must have acquired a good ability to analyze and evaluate financial instruments. | |

| Assessment and feedback | |
|-------------------------|---|
| Methods of assessment | ORAL |
| Evaluation criteria | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Knowledge and understanding At the end of the course, students must know and have the ability to understand the main dynamics of the functioning of the stock exchanges and the processes of quotations on the stock exchange. • Applying knowledge and understanding At the end of the course, students must be able to know and have the ability to understand the application of the basics, learning a correct method of assessing the return profile and risk of the financial instruments studied (stocks, bonds and derivatives) • Autonomy of judgment At the end of the course, students must be able to understand the techniques for making the best investment choices by identifying possible risk areas as market conditions change. |

| | |
|---|---|
| | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Communicating knowledge and understanding At the end of the course, students must have acquired the ability to present the various investment opportunities in public, as well as provide advice on issues related to investment choices. • Communication skills Already listed in this section "Evaluation criteria" in the five points • Capacities to continue learning At the end of the course, students must have acquired a good ability to analyze and evaluate financial instruments. |
| Criteria for assessment and attribution of the final mark | The measurement of the student's learning will be manifested during the exam taking into account the knowledge of the subject in relation to the answers given to the questions formulated. The final grade is expressed out of thirty. The exam is passed when the grade is greater than or equal to 18. |
| Additional information | // |
| | |