

Curriculum Prof.ssa Danila De Vito

Graduate in Pharmacy at University of Bari cum laude in 1973 ; holder of a research grant from 1975 to 1977 and then Assistant Professor at the Faculty of Medicine and Surgery from 1977 to 1985 in the Institute of Hygiene of the University of Bari. In 1981, graduated cum laude in Biological Sciences, and in 1985 became Associate Professor at the Chair of Hygiene , Faculty of Pharmacy. In 1995 degree cum laude in Medicine and Surgery and in November 1999, became Full Professor at the Chair of Hygiene, Faculty of Pharmacy. Prof. De Vito in the same Faculty is responsible for teaching Microbiology as a course integrated with Hygiene, and is also responsible for the teaching of “Hygiene” in Dental Hygiene School and the teaching in “Community Medicine” for the School in Medicine and Surgery . She detained various positions in the School of Specializations in “Hospital Pharmacy” and “Hygiene and Public Health” . She is part of the Academic Board of the PhD in "Microbiology , Technology, Health and Food Chemistry ." Since 1 November 2001 was employed as Professor for the academic sector MED/42 (Hygiene and Preventive Medicine) and at the same date she transfer at the Department of Dentistry and Surgery , Faculty of Medicine and Surgery , which coordinates the Section of Hygiene and Preventive Medicine; from 2010 to 2012 Dean of the Department. She works as Chief medical officer of the welfare at “Sexually Transmitted Infections Unit” at the University-Hospital “Policlinico” of Bari (General Hospital). Referee for the Regional Centre of Puglia for the enteropathogens, Coordinated by the National Institute of Health (Istituto Superiore di Sanità-ISS), she is the Coordinator for the Working Group of the Region Puglia on the "control of sexually transmitted diseases" coordinated by the Laboratory of Epidemiology and Biostatistics (ISS). Referee for the Region Puglia, of the Working Group that operates under the project of surveillance of microbial resistance .