

BARI ENGLISH MEDICAL CURRICULUM 5 (5° ANNO- 1° SEMESTRE)

The course of General Psychology (SSD MPSI-08) requires the reading of:

- Scientific articles describing cases of phobia and intervention strategies dealing with it.
- Literature on the assessment of behavior problems (i.e., ABC, functional assessment, and functional behavior analysis).
- Scientific articles involving assessment and treatment of behavior problems.
- Literature on data recording and single-subject research designs.
- Literature on task analysis.
- Scientific articles on the use of task analysis, single-subject designs, and assistive technology to promote task performance in people with disabilities.
- Scientific articles on the use of assistive technology to support leisure and communication in people with various types of disability.

The exam will be based on the aforementioned material.

The exam will consist of an essay describing two intervention programs for two cases.