

Personal Profile

Isidoro Davide Mortellaro
i.mortellaro@lettere.uniba.it

Born in 1950, Isidoro Davide Mortellaro is Associate Professor of the History of International Relations at the Faculty of Humanities in "Aldo Moro" University of Bari. He is currently in charge of a BA course in History of International Relations and a MA course in History of Political Institutions.

He is graduate in Philosophy, has been CNR research fellow and research fellow at the Chair of History of Political Ideas in University of Bari.

For years, he put beside the academic activities an intense participation to the editorial chair of "De Donato editore" and to scientific committee of the reviews «Democrazia e diritto», «Conflitti globali» e «Giano». He is member of the scientific committee of «Centro Studi e Iniziative per la Riforma dello Stato - CRS». He writes for «il manifesto» and «Democrazia e diritto».

He has published extensively on history of South Italy. Actually, he attend to research on globalization processes and history of international and european institutions: United Nations, Nato, WTO and EU.

He has published, among other texts: Oltre Maastricht. Cronache dall'Europa di fine secolo, La Meridiana, 1997; I signori della guerra. La Nato verso il XXI secolo, Manifestolibri,1999; Tra due secoli. Tappe e approdi dell'Unione Europea: 1989-2011, Edizioni La Meridiana, Molfetta, 2011. He has also been editor of the book: Interpretazioni della guerra, politiche per la pace, in «I Quaderni. Trimestrale dell'Istituto Gramsci Marche», n. 33-34, 2000.