

General Information
Academic subject	Elements of private law
Degree course	History and Historical Documentation. Interclass. (LM-84)
Curriculum
ECTS credits	6
Compulsory attendance	No
Language	Italiano

Subject teacher	Name Surname	Mail address	SSD
	Maria Colomba Perchinunno	Mariacolomba.perchinunno@uniba.it	IUS/01

ECTS credits details
Basic teaching activities	12/AI

Class schedule
Period	First semester
Year	Second
Type of class	Lecture- workshops

Time management
Hours measured	150
In-class study hours	42
Out-of-class study hours	108

Academic calendar
Class begins
Class ends

Syllabus
Prerequisites/-requirements
Expected learning outcomes (according to Dublin Descriptors) (it is recommended that they are congruent with the learning outcomes contained in A4a, A4b, A4c tables of the SUA-CdS)	After course study student will posses: - knowledge and comprehension of the field of private law, also regarding other sectors of law and fundamental legal notions specific to the private sector; - the ability to apply knowledge and comprehension of private law with the acquisition of the capability to analyze basic legal questions with specific reference to individuals, personal and property law, obligations and contracts, to be evaluated also through the study of legal cases; - independent judgement based on the systematic framework of acquired information; - communicative abilities with the acquisition of the ability to express one's self using fundamental legal-technical language with regards to private legal institutions; - the ability to learn with the acquisition of the ability to use fundamental instruments for updating of knowledge through
Contents	The learning objectives of this course are general notions of private law and the in-depth analysis of certain fundamental themes of the material. Through these contents the essential characteristics of the legal method will be illustrated to the student.
Course program	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Law and State. Legal norms and regulations. Legal history. Public and private law. - Sources of law and globalization. Application of the law.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Interpretation of the law - Individual rights and individual legal situations. Legal events and effects. - Subjects of law: natural persons and legal entities. - Personal rights. - Goods. Property and other real situations, possessions. - Obligations: sources, structures, and incidents of modification and termination. - Debt liability and guarantees. - Contracts: general discipline, negotiation, formation and execution: inexistence and invalidity, ineffectiveness and unenforceability. - Illegal incidents and extracontractual responsibility. - Non-contractual sources of obligation. Unilateral promises. - Family law and donations. - General information on inheritance due to death. - Protection of rights Materials on leading cases on topics covered during the course will be distributed to attendees. Attendees will be able to establish a special schedule and participate in integrative activities.
Bibliography	Visintini, Nozioni giuridiche fondamentali. Diritto privato, most recent edition, excluding chapters 8 and 10. - Study must be accompanied by consultation of an up-to-date CIVIL CODE.
Notes
Teaching methods	Lectures. Eventual seminars for in-depth analysis with in-class discussions of legal cases.
Assessment methods (indicate at least the type written, oral, other)	Oral exam
Evaluation criteria (Explain for each expected learning outcome what a student has to know, or is able to do, and how many levels of achievement there are, for each learning outcome expected said, describe what you expect the student knows or is able to do and at what level, in order to demonstrate that a learning outcome has been achieved and at what level)	Evaluation criteria are based on the level of knowledge and ability to understand fundamental legal arrangements of private law, the appropriateness of language used, communicative abilities, and the ability to use and comprehend sources of law.
Further information	