Prerequisites/requirements
Expected learning outcomes (according to Dublin Descriptors) (it is recommended that they are congruent with the learning outcomes contained in A4a, A4b, A4c tables of the SUA-CdS)	The class, theoretical and practical at the same time, intends to give students technical and legal instruments useful to analyze laws, judgments and authors' interpretations about contracts, and also to draw up contracts. At the end of the course the student will be able to read and understand contracts. He'll get notions and know principles at the base of the civil law system about contracts and he'll obtain a technical language eligible to interact with the professional law operators. He will be able to solve practical juridical cases he'll deal with in his professional activity.
Contents	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> the class is articulated in two sections: an introductive one, based on the study of civil law about contracts in general, paying specific attention to their closing, effects and pathologies, and a special one, where single contracts shall be examined
