A. Personal Statement

During my studies, the interest of interest in how the brain works has increased. Particularly, I am interested in the way a pathological brain works and what differentiates it from a healthy brain.

For this reason, after my master's degree I chose to do my postgraduate internship in a psychiatric hospital, place where I was able to relate to patients with different psychiatric diagnoses. I was able to observe their differences from a behavioral, neuropsychological and emotional point of view.

Now, Thanks to the collaboration with the Psychiatric Neuroscience Group of Prof. Bertolino, I have the possibility to observe these differences using fMRI data.

My short-term goal is to increase my knowledge in Neuroimaging, statistical and psychological field.
